

LOUISIANA CHILDREN'S MUSEUM BOARD OF DIRECTORS 2017

The Louisiana Children's Museum is governed by a 34-member board of directors representing the diverse populations, talent pools and occupations that characterize New Orleans. This board steers the Museum through its long-term planning and delegates the daily operations of the Museum to the CEO. Board members must possess an interest in children's education and be representative of the community. The board brings a variety of skills that are useful in non-profit management (i.e. expertise in education, law, finance, marketing, insurance, fundraising, event planning, etc.). Board members are elected to three-year terms, and no board member may serve more than two consecutive terms.
